1. Through an error, YANG Jun-lin was previously reported as in Taichung, Taiwan, as of early April 1949. YANG was arrested by the Chinese Communists in January 1949 when he was evacuating from Kalgan together with the staff workers of the Kuomintang Chahar Province Mongol Banners Headquarters and a number of other well-known Mongols. The party was heading for Peiping on foot. Some of the evacuees who were captured by the Communists at the same time as YANG have since been released, but no further details concerning YANG are available.
2. YANG's address in Peiping was last reported as 53 East Ssu Li Shih Hwang.
